

Chocolate Films

Chocolate films is an independent, full-service video production company. They are an international agency based in London and Glasgow, with global partners and satellite offices in the EU and US. They make content with impact – from promo videos to documentaries, animations to event films, and more.

CHALLENGE

Chocolate Films was set up to tackle the lack of access to creative opportunities and skills development for young people, particularly those from underrepresented or disadvantaged backgrounds.

SOLUTION

Big Issue Invest was contacted and provided affordable loans at key moments in their growth, enabling them to move closer to their mission of creating meaningful opportunities for young people in London.

REVENUE

Chocolate Films generates revenue through client work, where they create promotional videos, documentaries, and branded content for businesses and individuals.

IMPACT

As a result of this investment, Chocolate films will be able to facilitate workshops across the UK, from their own studio, and around the world in a variety of settings, empowering individuals from diverse backgrounds
