Challenge

There is a lack of school programmes families, in Perry Barr, can send their children to learn cultural values as well as engage in different physical activities.

Revenue model

Eidgah Academy is a community hub providing educational, recreational and social activities for economically disadvantaged children and young people. They offer a full curriculum of after school tuition and programmes to engage children and young people.

Impact

Eidgah Academy engages with 130 predominantly Muslim children and young people of Pakistani, Bengali and African backgrounds through structured personal development programs and playing games.
